Role

This is a fantastic opportunity for a student studying Business Management, or similar, to gain valuable management experience working in this fast-paced disruptive tech courier company. Mentored throughout you will be assisting in a whole range of duties including; managing customer service and live operations (for example despatching couriers), booking and planning deliveries and dealing with or directing sales leads. So, if you are an organised multitasker who can work under pressure, then this challenge could be the making of you.

Tasks

You will be assisting in the following tasks;

- Using customer service software to respond to and manage inbound customer service queries, both from our customers and our couriers
- Managing daily operations as part of a team and at times, independently, including overseeing operations to make sure everything is running smoothly
- Courier recruitment, checking documentation, organising and holding training sessions as well as improving and updating training process
- Spending allotted time managing specific client accounts including; grocery deliveries, catering and multi-drop
- Supervise couriers to ensure a 100% delivery success rate
- Managing finances in relation to live operations, reviewing data to ensure correct administration.

Desired Skills

- Working towards a Business management or related degree
- Strong written and verbal English skills
- Good interpersonal and communication skills
- Phone and email skills
- Confident problem solving
- Computer literate
- Good understanding of Excel
